

World Cup warning over domestic abuse spikes

Research and local data consistently show that incidents of domestic abuse rise around major men's football events, with reports increasing by around 25% following matches – regardless of whether the team wins, loses or draws.

The Hampshire Domestic Abuse Partnership has launched a new campaign to raise awareness, recognise the signs and details where support is available. Communications and campaigns | Health and social care | Hampshire County Council

If you have information about domestic abuse, and you would like to remain anonymous, you can report what you know to Crimestoppers by calling 0800 555 111 or fill in the secure online form on their website, for more information: Let's call time on abuse | Crimestoppers

Using AI Safely

Get Safe Online have launched a new campaign on using AI safely and responsibly. There is lots of useful information, including these TOP THREE CHECKS to spot AI-assisted scams:

- CHECK the context: Be suspicious of unsolicited emails, messages or phone calls – even if they seem authentic. They could be fraudulent.
- CHECK the details: The spelling and grammar in AI-generated content may be perfect, but it sometimes includes inconsistencies, such as slightly odd email addresses, incorrect logos or unusual phrasing. In images and videos, check for signs of things not quite as they should be.
- CHECK identity independently: Don't rely on just a message. Call or message the person or company using contact details you know to be correct to check if the sender is genuine.
